Introduced in 1928 Hamblin's Lister-Morton Ophthalmoscope remains the Standard amongst electric ophthalmoscopes with a performance that has yet to be surpassed. The lighting system has been designed to cut down corneal reflex to a minimum and to eliminate reflections, thus making it possible to carry out a direct examination of the macular region in a fully lighted room without using mydriatics.

The battery model being self-contained is ideal for bedside examination, but operation from the mains is usually preferred in the consulting room.

A good arrangement for a busy Surgeon is to use the battery model for visiting purposes and to have an interchangeable mains handle complete with lamp and condensing system for consulting room purposes.

STALLARD OPERATING SPECTACLES

These Operating Spectacles, designed by Mr. H. B. Stallard, F.R.C.S., were the subject of an article by him in the British Journal of Ophthalmology, October, 1950. They present the following advantages:—

(1) When the extension carrying the lenses is swung upwards in front of the forehead, there is no obstruction below or to the sides of the operator's field of view. (2) The lenses, being placed well in front of the operator's nose and the plane of his mask, never become steamed over.

(3) The spectacles are very light and comfortable, exerting the minimum of pressure on the nose and ears. (4) They can be folded flat into a small space.
