

UNIVERSITY OF NATAL
NATAL PROVINCIAL ADMINISTRATION

JOINT MEDICAL STAFF
ESTABLISHMENT
(DURBAN)

Applications are invited from suitably qualified persons regardless of sex, religion, race, colour or national origin for appointment to the following post on University conditions of service:

Professor and Head of the Department of Ophthalmology

Remuneration: R44 850 fixed per annum plus R5 382 (pensionable allowance)

An additional professional allowance can be applied for.

For this post applicants must be registered (or registerable) as a Specialist Ophthalmologist with the South African Medical and Dental Council.

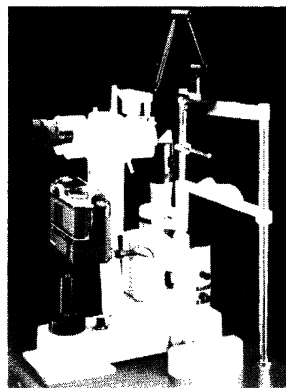

This is a full time post without the right of private practice.

The Medical Faculty of the University of Natal caters for the undergraduate training of African, Asiatic and Coloured undergraduate medical students as well as for postgraduate training of all racial groups.

The teaching hospitals attached to this Medical School are in possession of modern up to date investigative and treatment facilities and incorporate patients from all ethnic groups in Southern Africa and thus provide excellent opportunities for research across a wide spectrum of the different diseases which affect patients in this area.

There are also certain ophthalmological ailments which have endemic connotations in our developing situation in a subtropical environment which require detailed study and further research. There is thus considerable potential for metropolitan and geographical expansion of the service and research ambit which could be a challenge for the incoming Professor of Ophthalmology.

Further particulars and application forms are obtainable from the Staffing Section, Faculty of Medicine, PO Box 17039, Congella 4013, Durban, RSA with whom applications must be lodged not later than 8th February 1985.
