Correction

Unfortunately, one of the authors of a letter (Resolution of calcific band keratopathy after lowering elevated serum calcium in a patient with sarcoidosis) which appeared in the November issue of the BJO (Johnston et al, p 1050) was left out. She is Melanie C Corbett, Medical Eye Unit, St Thomas's Hospital, London. We apologise for this omission.

Correction

Owing to a computer error the wrong graphical material appeared in Figure 1 of the paper by Damato et al (Risk factors for residual and recurrent uveal melanoma after transcleral local resection), in the February issue of the journal (BJO 1996; 80: 102-8). The correct version of this figure is given below.

Figure 1 Kaplan-Meier curves showing the percentage of eyes without recurrent tumour according to tumour cell type. Local recurrence was more common with mixed and epithelioid tumours than with spindle cell tumours.
